Journal of Medical Humanities

Volume 22, Number 1 Spring 2001

CONTENTS

Special Issue: Rhetoric and Biomedicine
Guest Editor: John Lyne

Contours of Intervention: How Rhetoric Matters to Biomedicine 3
John Lyne

Genetic Biotechnology and Evolutionary Theory: Some Unsolicited Advice to Rhetors 15
David Depew

Blueprints and Recipes: Gendered Metaphors for Genetic Medicine 29
Celeste M. Condit and Deirdre M. Condit

Defining the Subject of Consent in DNA Research 41
Gordon R. Mitchell and Kelly Happe

The Hippocratic Oath as Epideictic Rhetoric: Reanimating Medicine's Past for Its Future 55
Lisa Keränen

Defining "Human Dignity" in the Debate Over the (Im)Morality of Physician-Assisted Suicide 69
Michael J. Hyde

Poetry and Commentary
Skin Man by Mary Kennan Herbert 83
Five Tasks by Patrick Clary 87

Journal of Medical Humanities

Volume 22, Number 2 Summer 2001

CONTENTS

Responsibility for Health and Blaming Victims 95
Mike W. Martin

Mediate Auscultation, the Stethoscope, and the "Autopsy of the Living": Medicine's Acoustic Culture 115
Jonathan Sterne

Dr. Daedalus and His Minotaur: Mythic Warnings about Genetic Engineering from J.B.S. Haldane, François Jacob, and Andrew Niccol's Gattaca 137
Mark Jeffreys

The Letters of Her Strange Alphabet 153
Poems and Commentaries by Veneta Masson, Dwaine Rieves, Arthur Ginsberg, Wayne Liebman, and George T. Young

Jack Coulehan, Editor

BOOK REVIEWS 165
Modernism, Technology, and the Body: A Cultural Study; Hermaphrodites and the Medical Invention of Sex

Journal of Medical Humanities

Volume 22, Number 3 Fall 2001

CONTENTS

A Narrative Approach to the Clinical Reasoning Process in Pediatric Intensive Care: The Story of Matthew 173
Michele A. Carter and Sally S. Robinson

Re-imagining the (Dis)Abled Body 195
Cassandra Phillips

May I Touch You? 209
Poems and Commentaries by Daniel Bryant, H. J. Van Peenen, Robert Harlan Wintroub, Amy Haddad, Richard Donze, and Thomas Dorsett

Edited by Jack Coulehan

Of Horses, Planks, and Window Sleepers: Stage Hypnotism Meets Reform, 1836–1920 223
Fred Nadis

BOOK REVIEWS 247
Death Foretold: Prophecy and Prognosis in Medical Care; The Last Physician: Walker Percy & the Moral Life of Medicine

Journal of Medical Humanities

Volume 22, Number 4 Winter 2001

CONTENTS

From the Victim's Point of View 255
David Hilfiker

A Journey to Madness: Jane Bowles's Narrative and Schizophrenia 265
Inmaculada Cobos Fernández

Casting Off the Perishable 285
Kathy Faber-Langendoen

Why Do They Keep Coming to Get Their Hearts? 299
B. A. St. Andrews, Paul Boor, Michael Zack, Norbert Hirschhorn, Jack Coulehan, and Robert Carroll

Edited by Jack Coulehan

BOOK REVIEWS 311
Public Privates: Performing Gynecology from Both Ends of the Speculum; Ethical Issues in Biomedical Publication; How Our Lives Become Stories: Making Selves; The Visible Human Project: Informatic Bodies and Posthuman Medicine; The Languages of Addiction